Contribution details

Financial year of contributions to be split 01/07/ to 30/06/

You can usually only split contributions after the end of the financial year (and within the next financial year). However, if you are transferring your whole benefit to another superannuation or rollover fund or withdrawing your total benefit, you may split contributions made in the current financial year.

If you are a Defined Benefit member, you can only split contributions to your voluntary contribution account.

What type of contributions would you like to split in favour of your spouse?

All splittable contributions

OR (choose one or more options)

Compulsory employer contributions

Voluntary employer contributions

Salary sacrifice contributions

Personal contributions claimed as a tax deduction

Allocated surplus

How much of these contributions do you wish to split in favour of your spouse? (select ONE option only)

Split the maximum amount of contributions (85% of contributions)

Split the following percentage of each splittable contribution % (up to 85%)

Split the following dollar amount of contributions $

For Contributory Accumulation members who were Seafarers Retirement Fund members on 30 June 2008

If you were a Contributory or Non-Contributory member of the Seafarers Retirement Fund on 30 June 2008, you may be entitled to a minimum protected benefit when you access benefits following retirement from the maritime industry. However, if you transfer benefits from your Core Accumulation or Benchmark Salary account to another fund before retiring from the maritime industry, you will waive your rights to any minimum protected benefit (now and in the future).

Are you a Contributory Accumulation member who was a member of the Seafarers Retirement Fund on 30 June 2008?

No

Yes Tick the appropriate box below - if you do not tick a box, you will waive your rights to a minimum benefit.

I do not have a minimum protected benefit as I have previously waived my right to the benefit

Despite anything else in this request, I only authorise the transfer of benefits to the extent that I will not waive my rights to a minimum protected benefit. Call Member Services to find out how much you can transfer without waiving your rights to a minimum protected benefit.

I agree to have my minimum protected benefit calculated at the time of purchasing my WISP and agree that I will not be entitled to a minimum protected benefit again - complete the Access Benchmark Salary or Core Accumulation Account form available from our website or by calling Member Services and attach it to this application.

▶ Details of person (spouse) receiving the contribution

▶ Member's declaration

I request the Trustee split the contributions, as detailed overleaf, in favour of my spouse. I confirm that the person nominated is my legal spouse or de facto partner. I understand that I cannot make another request to split contributions for the noted financial year.

If the contribution amount I have requested to be split exceeds the maximum amount that can be split, I request the Trustee to split the maximum amount of splittable contributions in favour of my spouse.

I understand that I may request up to date information on the value of my benefit in the Fund and the effect this contribution split will have on my benefit.

▶ Spouse's declaration and payment instructions (this section MUST be completed by your spouse)

Confirm your eligibility to have contributions split in your favour (select one option only):

- I have not yet reached my preservation age; OR
- I am between my preservation age and 65 years and I have not retired*

* 'Retired' means that you are currently not (nor ever intending to) work for 10 or more hours a week, nor have left an employer after your 60th birthday.
